OUR MAIN AGENDA ITEMS THIS PAST MONTH

Investigative Report: Thousands of residential plots stand empty in the Bedouin towns of the Negev, as hundreds of millions shekels of Israeli taxpayers' hard- earned cash goes down the drain

Regavim exposed the scandalous waste of public resources that have been poured into developing residential plots for resettlement of Israeli Bedouin in the Negev over the past 20 years. Rather than protecting precious land reserves in southern Israel, the government has squandered monetary and land resources, whitewashed and “legalized” the sprawl of illegal squatters’ camps - costing the Israeli public hundreds of millions of shekels and thousands of dunams of precious land. Arab squatters take over an archaeological site and turn it into a private residence

We demanded that the Civil Administration evict the squatters who have taken over the archaeological site at Khirbet Parsin. After we documented the squatters carrying out construction work that was destroying priceless artifacts dating back thousands of years, we applied massive pressure on the Civil Administration, and inspectors were finally dispatched to the site. They impounded some of the construction materials and equipment and uprooted some of the trees that had been planted by the squatters as a means of staking a claim to the property. Regavim takes on a “green” battle: The Palestinian Authority’s Corona Dump

We exposed how the Palestinian Authority exploited the corona lockdown to dump hundreds of truckloads of untreated waste into an abandoned quarry in the Binyamin region. In response to our demand for enforcement action, the authorities claimed that the dumping had been stopped – but we won’t give up the fight until the mountain of garbage is removed and the criminals who created it are prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Moshav Nevatim continues to suffer from agricultural terrorism – and has called upon Regavim to help fight back

The desecration of the Nevatim cemetery and the poaching of Moshav land are only the tip of the iceberg of lawlessness and terror that the residents of Nevatim endure at the hands of Bedouin squatters. The Jewish farmers of Nevatim turned to Regavim for help, and we have initiated steps to force the authorities to remove the squatters and initiate a criminal investigation. Read more here>>>

The Palestinian Authority's Tu B'Shvat celebrations

The Palestinian Authority held planting ceremonies in a number of locations this year, the largest of which was on Israeli state land in Area C. The tract of land targeted by this agricultural annexation project is located in IDF Training Ground 203, east of the Israeli town of Rosh HaAyin, adjacent to the security barrier just west of the PA-controlled town of Dir Balut. The Religious Zionist Sector's 50 Most Influential People

Meir Deutsch, Director General of the Regavim Movement, was chosen as one of Israel's 50 most influential people to emerge from the Religious Zionist sector. According to the Israeli national newspaper Makor Rishon, "Over the years, Regavim has emerged as the foremost authority on matters relating to land protection, and is widely acknowledged as a major force in the halls of the High Court of Justice and the Knesset and an authoritative, professional source of information that continues to shape the formulation of Israel's land-use policy" Access the (Hebrew) article here>>>

Debunking the extreme left's blood libel against the IDF

Recently, the IDF's Artillery Corps held a routine training exercise in designated training grounds in the Jordan Valley – and radical leftist organizations attacked what it claimed was a live-fire drill in "Palestinian villages." Regavim's research division collected the facts, and tore the mask off the left's fake news. Read more

CHALK UP ANOTHER WIN UP FOR REGAVIM

As a result of our petition, a massive junkyard that was blighting the countryside and polluting the groundwater in the Binyamin region was cleared. Countless wrecks had been piling up for years at an illegal automotive scrapyard near Bir Zeit, polluting topsoil and groundwater with untreated effluents and automotive waste. Regavim's lawsuit resulted in the removal of the illegal junkyard and the restoration of area. See our video clip about this case>>>
