Partners' Update from Regavim

Dear Friends and Partners,

As we celebrate Chanukah, the festival of light and heroism, we send our support and love to the members of the Regavim Team, to our extended Regavim Family and to all of our brave soldiers who are fighting the Disengagement War for the Land and People of Israel on multiple fronts, from the north to the south.

Despite the personal and national challenges, despite the pain and the loss that are intermingled with hope and determination, Regavim's efforts continue to bear fruit, and we are convinced – now more than ever – that our mission to protect our national lands and preserve our national sovereignty is the key to a brighter future.

Wishing you and yours a happy and uplifting Chanukah!

Together, we are invincible!

Regavim

The “settler violence” blood libel: fighting back
Following the recent policy announcements by “friendly” governments about "settler violence" and as a follow-up to our extensive field tours with foreign journalists, the Regavim Team convened a panel of experts to provide data and to sharpen messaging and public diplomacy methods. Spokespeople for the local and regional councils of Judea and Samaria joined us, along with representatives of a host of non-government organizations that present Israel’s case in the international arena, for an important brainstorming and tactical enrichment session.

Mahmoud al-Habbash, senior advisor to PA President Abu Mazen (Mahmoud Abbas), used a recent interview with “Al Arabiya” to bring the message full circle: “Violence by armed West Bank settlers against Palestinians will explode the situation and will result in an attack even bigger than that of October 7th.” Watch >>>

Following the publication of our recent study of illegal construction in the security buffer zone, decision makers and the Israeli public are taking our findings to heart. The thin layer of protection against an attack on Israel's main population centers has been overrun with illegal Arab construction, right under the State of Israel's nose. See coverage of our findings here or watch this condensed popular version (seen by over 145,000 viewers in English and Hebrew -so far!)

A detailed position paper, presenting and analyzing the data, will soon be available in English on our website; look for it, as well as all Regavim position papers and maps, here >>

Yasser Arafat
The Mastermind of Terror

The Palestinian Authority's education system – infamously corrupted by the hate-filled, antisemitic curriculum that has raised generations of actual and would-be murderers on Arafat's toxic doctrine of terror – continues to feed young minds with blatant and subliminal messages that imbed Arafat's legacy of hate.

Regavim's Research Division presented very troubling documentation - all from the past year and some as recent as this past month - of how this legacy of hate is being passed down to the next generation. Watch >>>

The call of the desert comes to the Knesset
We went to the Knesset to represent Israel’s critical interest in the Negev – as a lone voice in a hearing convened by Arab MKs and leftist organizations bent on exploiting the war to “whitewash” sqatters’ camps in the Negev. Learn more >>>

Who are you, esteemed P... Minister Shaaban?

Can it be that another icon of Israel's fringe left, another darling of "peaceful resistance," is actually a Hamas supporter? Don't take our word for it - hear it str... from the terror-supporter's mouth.

Regavim: Unstoppable, even now...
While half of the Regavim team is in uniform on the front lines, the other half continues to wage the battle on the legal, legislative and public diplomacy fronts.

Despite being shorthanded on the civilian side of the battle, Regavim’s operations are continuing at full pace, with new reports and position papers, participation in Knesset policy and legislative processes, fact-finding field tours for MKs and journalists, research, and publication in Israeli and international media (here's a recent example).
